24

Steps for applying to study in Egypt

Creating an account and paying the application fees on the platform is required if you choose the self-funded option. This option cannot be changed to a scholarship, except in very rare cases.

Technical review and preliminary acceptance will be completed within a maximum of 5 working days.

Electronic Coordination: Coordination is processed automatically on a daily basis, giving priority to earlier applications. A specific quota is allocated for each country.

Preliminary nomination

Steps for applying to study in Egypt

Pay the nomination fees, which include:
-Coordination fees
-Verification of certificate recency
- Club fees
- Registration fees
"If payment is not completed within 14 days, the nomination will be cancelled".

After completing the payment, the student must submit their file to the university.

Payment Review (for bank transfers or electronic payments)

Once the university receives and reviews the student's documents, the status 'Completed' will appear on the platform.

Important and Urgent – To Expedite the Processing of Your Application

1.Daily Follow-Up on Your Account on the "Study in Egypt" Platform

2.You must check your account regularly. If a follow-up request is sent, you should complete it promptly, as the file review period is only 3–5 days. After that, the review will proceed.

3.Pay the second instalment of the platform fees immediately after the preliminary nomination to avoid cancellation within 14 days and to secure your nominated program.

4.Your personal photo must be in JPEG format.

5.Please fill in your data using a web browser, not a mobile phone.

Best wishes from the "Study in Egypt" team for everyone's success

Important and Urgent – To Speed Up the Processing of Your Application

Dear Students,

1.Please ensure that all service fees are paid in full.

2.Kindly note that the specified amount does not include the applicable bank commission.

3.Failure to pay the full amount may result in your application being returned to you on the platform for completion.
